

Lazarex

Lazarex is a Cancer Foundation that not only does research for a cure for cancer, but they financially support those who are going through treatment and can't afford it. They also have two research facilities in the Philippines that use the targeted drug Rexin-G to help kill the cancer cells. This drug is proven to shrink tumors with minimal side effects so the patients can have a quality life. Though it doesn't always cure the cancer it can help a patient who is told that it is the end, live longer. It also provides quality life so that they can enjoy life!

Why I am helping

My name is Haley Morucci and I am a middle-school student in Clayton, Ca. I decided to help Lazarex after my uncle was diagnosed with lung cancer. This is the third time he has had cancer. The first two times he had Hodgkin's and after that he was cancer free for 18 years. It came back as lung cancer in April 2009. I heard my mom and dad talking, they were talking about Lazarex. My Mom, when we heard about my uncle, immediately called her friend, Dana Dornsife, who happens to be the president of Lazarex, and without hesitation, she offered to help. So I went on their website and I decided to try to help too.

The bracelets

So..I went on my computer and I designed some bracelets that I am now selling to benefit Lazarex. I am selling them for a just two dollars each, and donating all the proceeds to Lazarex. All donations are also greatly appreciated! Thanks so much for helping!
